This new plate model is more robust, more luxurious and of greater aesthetic quality and functional. The new design integrates, in its version of video entry, the functions of video and audio in the same module.

It is characterized by its profile curvo-convex, while maintaining the same features of its predecessor. There is a full compatibility between both models, ensuring your replacement and replacement immediate.

They are manufactured in anodized aluminium of high resistance to weather and to climate changes. It incorporates new materials such as zamak chrome ends and push-buttons

The plates Cityline does not include the recessed box or surface. This must be requested separately.
