Complete in-table kit with cover, brush, and 4 black Schuko socket bases Simon 400. Do you need to embed your connections in a table? Simon offers this complete in-table kit with cover, brush, and 4 Schuko socket bases finished in black. A product that is part of the avant-garde Simon 400 series. A series that seeks solutions for the most demanding environments, caring for details and looking for quality products at a very competitive price. Manufactured for 4 elements, it has dimensions of 250 x185x85 millimeters and features a manual lifting system. Made of metal, with an anodized aluminum profile and a painted steel enclosure, these materials make it a product of great design and durability. Simon is not only concerned with design and resistance; safety is a very important part for this brand with more than 100 years of history. By featuring fasteners and covers made of self-extinguishing, halogen-free thermoplastic, we prevent the spread of fire and the creation of toxic fumes.
