Complete in-table kit with cover, brush, and 4 white Schuko socket bases Simon 400. Thanks to this complete in-table kit with cover, brush, and 4 white Schuko socket bases, we can embed our connections in any type of space. Simon offers an elegant and avant-garde way to have 4 elements, avoiding the use of long cables on the floor. The Simon 400 series is already a benchmark in homes and the most demanding workspaces. The dimensions of this piece are 250x185x85 millimeters and it is made of metal. Suitable for voltages of 250 volts and intensities of 16 Amperes. A highly durable product thanks to its painted steel enclosure and anodized aluminum profile. Simon offers fire safety across the entire range, achieved through the use of self-extinguishing, halogen-free thermoplastic, which guarantees that the flame does not spread or create toxic fumes.
