Customizable desktop kit with 1 Schuko socket base and 4 blank elements, white Simon 400. The versatility of choosing the functions that best suit the space's needs, combined with the minimalist style provided by its white finishes, makes the Simon 400 customizable desktop kit the ideal option for optimizing space and enhancing connection functionality. With 1 Schuko socket base and 4 blank elements, you can create your own kit tailored to your work environment. Compatible with a supply voltage of 250V and a current of 16A, it connects to a Wieland figure and has an insulation resistance greater than 5 MO at 500V, with a dielectric strength, without contouring or drilling, of 2000 V at 50Hz/minute. It is designed for flush mounting in furniture using the already incorporated clamps, reducing assembly time as it requires no additional tools, and the operation is performed on the top part of the product and the respective furniture.
