Simon 82 white adapter plate. This 55x55mm white adapter plate from the Simon 82 series is available in different finishes. Nevertheless, we recommend considering that a better design will be achieved by choosing a frame in the same skirting board color as the selected plate. During installation, please note that the part is compatible with both flush mounting and surface mounting. Thanks to its thermoplastic material, it is a product that meets our most rigorous quality controls, as well as current regulations, and is highly resistant. Therefore, it can withstand temperatures from 5 to 40º C, and can operate under much more extreme conditions. It is recommended to wipe the plate with a soft cloth to clean it; avoid aggressive products that may contain chlorine, as they could damage the part.
