Description

Stocker 1400g splitting axe, ideal for cutting firewood with speed, strength and precision. Its perfect balance between the 1kg cutting head and the light, ergonomic handle allows you to make the most of the weight of the head, reducing vibrations and making work easier. The carbon steel head with anti-friction coating ensures durability and cutting efficiency, while the back of the head can be used as a hammer. The handle has non-slip inserts and a loop for safe and comfortable transport. With a length of 60cm and a total weight of 1.4kg, this ax is an essential tool for any firewood chopping task.
