Description

Cold Effect Loosener 400ml

The Cold Effect Loosener 400 ml is a multipurpose deoxidizing product that provides intense cooling to the pieces that you want to loosen or separate. With unblocking properties and a high deoxidizing power, this spray protects application areas from rust, cleans metals and is effective against humidity.

Its prolonged effect is due to the different thermal expansion it produces between the oxide and the sublayer, thus facilitating the loosening process. However, it is important to note that it is extremely flammable and toxic to aquatic organisms, so it should be used with caution and its release into the environment should be avoided. With a content of 400 ml, this product is ideal for maintenance and repair tasks at home or in the workshop.
