Description

The Bryne thermal undershirt in anthracite color from the Cofra brand in size S is an ideal garment to keep the body warm in cold weather. Its composition of 67% nylon, 23% polypropylene and 10% elastane guarantees comfort and flexibility. With a weight of 270g/m², this t-shirt is light but at the same time offers excellent thermal protection. Perfect for wearing under clothing during outdoor activities or in low-temperature environments, this garment is breathable and quick-drying. Its tight-fitting design allows for easy mobility and prevents sweat buildup. The Bryne thermal base layer is a versatile and functional option to stay warm and comfortable in any situation.
