Description

The Robito Vaina broad bean peeler is a household appliance designed to facilitate the shelling of fruits and vegetables in pods. Its simple and efficient operation allows for processing large quantities in a short time, thus optimizing the freezing and storage processes. This device is useful for peeling vegetables such as broad beans, kidney beans, soybeans, and peas, avoiding direct contact with your hands, which can cause stains.

- Compact and easy-to-use design, with a single button for start-up.
- Capacity to shell different types of fruits and legumes with pods.
- Equipped with blades and rollers that allow automatic shelling.
- Quick peeling, increasing efficiency in food preparation.
- Ease of cleaning, which is done with warm water and a cloth.
- Prevents the dye on your hands that occurs when peeling manually.
