

Product sheet

Rubber base 10/16A - White, KRANG

Brand: KRANG

Reference: GIB 003271

Rubber grounding base, ideal for electrical environments. Its design ensures a reliable and durable connection, adapting to a variety of installations. Available in black or white, it combines functionality and aesthetics, meeting the safety standards required for demanding applications.

View product online

Description

The grounding aerial base is an essential component to ensure safety and efficiency in electrical installations. Designed to offer a secure and stable connection, this base is made with high-quality materials that ensure its durability and resistance under various conditions of use.

- Measurements: 4/4 8mm, providing a precise and secure fit in electrical installations.
- Material: Made of rubber, which offers flexibility and wear resistance, as well as excellent electrical insulation capacity.
- Color: Available in black or white, allowing you to choose according to the aesthetic or design needs of the environment.
- EAN13: 8435240702612, for easy identification and management in inventories.

Specifications

Rated current (A)	16
Colour	White
EAN	8435240702612
Material	Goma

If you have any questions, contact our support team

Item downloaded on 16 October 2026