Description

The Kukko-1-V-100-P is a set of two extensions specifically designed for the legs of bearing pullers models 20-1 and 20-10. With a length of 100 mm, these extensions allow you to adjust the length of the puller legs, thus facilitating access and removal of bearings in confined or hard-to-reach spaces. Its robust and functional design ensures a precise and secure fit, optimizing the performance of the pullers and guaranteeing efficient operation in various mechanical applications.

- Compatibility: Designed for bearing pullers models 20-1 and 20-10.
- Length: 100 mm, ideal for extending the legs as needed.
- Material: Made of high-quality steel for greater durability.
- Ease of use: Quick and easy installation on compatible pullers.
- Versatility: Allows working in different mechanical applications.
- Ergonomic design: Improves maneuverability and control during operation.
- Precision: Ensures a firm and secure fit every time.
- Lightweight: Facilitates Transport and handling during work.
- Finish: Surface treatment that prevents corrosion.
- Dimensions: Compact and easy to store when not in use.
