Description

The 280 g/m² fleece jacket in size XL is the ideal choice for those seeking comfort and functionality in their clothing. Made from 100% polyester, this jacket offers excellent thermal insulation, keeping you warm in cold weather. Its anti-pilling treatment ensures the garment maintains its appearance and softness over time, preventing the formation of small balls on the surface. The design includes a maxi collar that provides extra protection against the cold and a zipper closure with a tape pull for easy use. It also features practical side pockets for securely storing small items. The embroidered logo adds a distinctive touch to this jacket, making it a versatile garment for various occasions.
