Description

Massó Multipurpose Insecticide 100ml is an effective solution for controlling a wide variety of insects that can affect both horticultural crops and ornamental plants. Formulated with cypermethrin, this broad-spectrum insecticide is effective against common pests such as aphids, caterpillars, whiteflies, thrips, beetles, and mosquitoes. It is applied by foliar spraying, which allows for uniform distribution of the product on the leaves and stems of the plants, thus ensuring comprehensive protection. With a 1% concentration of cypermethrin, this insecticide is ideal for use on herbaceous plants and ornamental shrubs, providing long-lasting and efficient control of flying and crawling insects.
