Description

Professional drill with a 6 mm diameter sharp point, designed for precise applications in resistant materials such as metals and composites. Its robust construction and advanced cutting technology ensure efficient and durable drilling in demanding industrial environments.

Technical specifications

- Diameter: 6 mm

The sharp point allows precise access in confined spaces, ideal for work on metal structures and composite materials. Its optimized geometry maximizes drill durability during prolonged use.

Installation is simple and direct, compatible with conventional drills. It is recommended for applications that demand wear resistance and consistent performance under demanding conditions.

Specifications

Diameter	6 mm
