Description

Professional multi-opening tool with adjustable lock, designed for industrial plumbing and maintenance use. Its construction in hardened steel ensures durability and strength under demanding conditions. The monkey head provides a firm grip on irregular or slippery surfaces, improving effectiveness in precise tasks.

Technical Specifications

- Total Length: 300 mm
- Materials: Hardened Steel
- Maximum Opening: Variable according to design
- Adjustable Lock

Its ergonomic design facilitates handling in tight spaces, making it especially useful for tasks requiring precision and grip. It adapts to a wide range of materials thanks to its adaptable locking mechanism.

The pliers are commonly used in plumbing installations, electrical work, and general repairs. Its monkey head improves control during work, especially on irregular surfaces or when greater adhesion is needed.
