Description

The straight aluminium level Vatton of 30cm is a precision tool designed for alignment and leveling work in construction and DIY. Its robust structure ensures reliable measurements under various environmental conditions.

Technical characteristics

- Structure of aluminium resistant to impacts and falls.
- Three precision bubbles with high visibility in 0o, 45o and 90o.
- Operating range between -20 °C and +60 °C.
- Fine accuracy of 0.8 mm/m.
- Plastic protections against impacts.
- Magnetic base with neodymium magnet.
- Equipped with holes to hang it.

Thanks to its high visibility and adjustable accuracy, this level allows perfect lines to be drawn without leaving any color marks on the surface. It is essential to ensure verticality and horizontality in walls, shelves and metal structures.

The installation is simple: place the instrument on the surface to be measured or use its magnetic base to secure it firmly in steel. Make sure the bubbles are centered on your indicator rings for exact results.
