Description

The universal screw case cap is an essential locking component designed to protect the interior of universal electrical boxes. Made by injection moulding technology, it guarantees optimal mechanical strength and durability over time. Its main function is to seal the box tightly against the input of dust, moisture and external elements, ensuring the integrity of the devices installed inside. This accessory is predominantly used in industrial, commercial and public infrastructure environments where environmental conditions require a higher level of protection for wiring and electrical equipment.

Technical characteristics

- External dimensions: 104 mm long by 104 mm wide.
- Geometric shape: Perfect square.
- Base material: Plastic of high mechanical and thermal resistance.
- Chemical composition: Free of halogens, ensuring fire safety and environmental compatibility.
- Aesthetic colour: Pure white for standard visual integration.
- Fixing system: Includes integrated screws for fast and safe mounting.
- Model type: Blind cover designed to completely hide the locking mechanism.
- Compatibility: Specific references 6625, 625 and 625C.

The advantages of this product lie in its versatility and ease of installation. Being halogen free, it complies with strict electrical and environmental safety regulations, reducing toxicological risks. The presence of integrated screws eliminates the need for additional accessories, speeding up the assembly process on site. Its square design of 104x104 mm offers a uniform protective surface that maximizes resistance to external shocks and pressures without compromising the aesthetics of the final set.
