Description

Elastic toilet sleeve eccentric model S219, designed to facilitate connection of drains with deviation. Its flexible material allows to adapt to small variations in the alignment of pipes, ensuring a safe and functional connection in sanitary facilities.

Technical characteristics

- Model: S219
- Type: Eccentric
- Material: Elastic
- Diameter: Ø90 mm
- Additional measure: 18 mm

The eccentric geometry and elasticity of the material contribute to a simpler installation when there is no perfect alignment between the ends of the pipe. This component helps maintain the continuity of the flow and the watertightness of the connection.
