Description

BARBI's Multipex 32-1" mobile rack is a component designed to facilitate the connection between cross-linked polyethylene pipes and threaded systems in plumbing facilities. This element allows to adapt the diameter of the pipe to the standard thread, ensuring a functional connection in the circuit.

Technical characteristics

- Compatibility with 32 mm Multipex pipes.
- 1" thread for connection to the system.
- BARBI mark.

The mobile configuration of the rack offers some flexibility in mounting, which can simplify the adaptation to different installation geometries. The specific compatibility with the diameter of 32 mm ensures an adequate fit with the type of pipe indicated.
