Description

Safety is a very important element in a plate, although you should never forget to have an innovative design that sets it apart from the rest of the competition. These two premises are met in the Plate and voice-data flat of the middle element with dust cover for RJ45 connector in white from the series Simon 27 Play. Thanks to its dimensions (22,5x45 mm) is a plate suitable for surface and recessed, having been its components made with thermoplastic materials that allow you to give the maximum performance in the most adverse conditions.
